The College of Nursing

About the College

The Mission of the College is to provide leadership through partnership with nurses in line with the changing needs of the community, trends in health service delivery and the aspirations of nurses themselves.

About the course

This subject is offered completely online and is designed to facilitate the development of the nurses understanding of the medical imaging environment. Content covered within this subject includes imaging modalities, nursing responsibilities including pre, during and post procedures, safety, medications and professional and legal responsibilities. The subject is designed to meet the needs of medical imaging nurses working within a variety of settings and caring for clients across the lifespan.

Key benefits

On successful completion of this subject it is anticipated the student will be better able to:

- describe the modalities used within the medical imaging department
- discuss the relationship between a patient's underlying condition and the procedure to be performed
- demonstrate an understanding of the requirements of groups with special needs
- develop a patient-centred approach to the management of patients undergoing medical imaging
- identify the OHS issues relevant to the medical imaging nurse
- demonstrate competence in all aspects of nursing care within the medical imaging process
- discuss the complications and side effects relating to medical imaging procedures and the appropriate nursing responses
- reflect on their own knowledge, competence and attitudes
- examine the ethical and legal implications associated with the medical imaging department.

Length

The subject is 150 hours over one semester.
